

Accreditation Quality Report

Welcome to the Joint Commission's Quality Report. We know how important reliable information is to you and your family when making health care decisions. This Quality Report will help you make the right decisions to meet your needs. Since 1951, Joint Commission has been the national leader in setting standards for health care organizations. When a health care organization seeks accreditation, it demonstrates commitment to giving safe, high quality health care and to continually working to improve that care.

The Quality Report is only one way to determine whether a health care organization can meet your needs. Discuss this report with your doctor or with other professional acquaintances before making a care decision. In addition to the accreditation status of the organization, the Quality Report uses checks, pluses, and minuses in the key area of National Patient Safety Goals - safety guidelines that target the prevention of medical errors such as surgery on the wrong side of the body and safe medication use.

Not all measures are relevant to or available for all types of health care organizations. The Joint Commission will add relevant measures of health care quality as more measures become available. Your comments are just as important to us. The content and format of the Quality Report will be updated from time to time based on changes in the health care industry and your suggestions. Please call Customer Service at 630-792-5800 or e-mail the Joint Commission at qualityreport@jointcommission.org with your comments and suggestions.

Mark R. Chassin, MD, MPP, MPH
President of the Joint Commission

Organization Commentary on the Quality Report

Commentary

It is our privilege to continue offering accredited high quality services for addictions treatment at moderate costs for the public. We are particularly pleased to be able to address the most chronic addiction problems within the safety and effectiveness of a residential community environment. Our specialized gender separate and professionals treatment programs fill a gap in the continuum of care. We offer the MARR South Recovery program experience for those patients with multiple treatment failures who seek a long term habilitation community. Residential programs may be extended up to one year or longer to enhance personal development and recovery skills. Patients continually credit the quality of spiritual support services as reasons for their success. The personal care nature of our program is complemented with a full range of professional services including psychiatry, psychology, social work, internal medicine, family therapy, nursing, and addiction treatment specialists. As a national program with a wide network of referrals, our staff is happy to help you with a plan for admission.
